CADSOFT EXPANDS i-TRAIN SERIES FOR ENVISIONEER 4.0

Guelph, ON — September 25, 2007 — Cadsoft Corporation has updated and expanded its popular line of i-Train training videos to support Envisioneer 4.0, the latest version of Cadsoft's Building Information Modeling (BIM) software. The i-Train video series is an ongoing collection of interactive training CDs designed for Residential Designers, Remodelers, Builders and Contractors.

Envisioneer continues to be the fastest growing residential design software solution on the market today. Serving as excellent learning resources, the following 8 volumes of i-Train videos are now available for purchase from the Cadsoft Online Store:

- Roof Techniques. Learn how to create complex and unique roof layouts.
- Kitchen Design. Learn how to create and arrange cabinets, countertops and appliances.
- Bathroom Design. Includes fixture and cabinet design, custom showers and bathtubs, and other design techniques.
- Catalog Management. Provides a detailed look into customizing and organizing your Envisioneer catalog and libraries.
- Deck Design. Learn how to create and edit decks, and customize deck materials.
- Landscape and Terrain. Covers landscaping features and methods, as well recreating the topography of your lot.
- Remodeling Procedures. Includes room additions and other remodeling projects.
- Rendering. Describes raytracing and radiosity, as well as setting up and generating photorealistic renderings of your 3D design.

"The Interactive Training Series has been greatly improved due to popular demand", says Chantale Pitts, Director of the Customer Service Group. "The training volumes have been well accepted by clients worldwide, and have become extremely popular."

Additional i-Train volumes are currently being developed to address the types of construction projects most commonly created by Envisioneer clients. The i-Train series is available for purchase at www.cadsoft.com.
